

About Abortion:

Terminating Pregnancy in Twenty-First-Century America

A panel discussion and reception in honor of the new book by Professor Carol Sanger

Join us to celebrate the publication of this eye-opening book which explores the legal, social, and political contours of abortion in American life. In the wake of the 2016 presidential election, About Abortion arrives at a critical time for public examination of the dense interplay between law, culture, and abortion. Legal scholars, writers, and advocates will reflect on About Abortion and its importance in insisting on abortion as a fundamental right and on normalizing the experience.

Panelists Include:

Emily Bazelon, Staff Writer, New York Times Magazine

Khiara Bridges, Professor of Law and Anthropology, Boston University School of Law

Diane Horvath-Cosper, M.D., M.P.H., Reproductive Health Advocacy Fellow, Physicians for Reproductive Health

David Pozen, Professor of Law, Columbia Law School

Stephanie Toti, Senior Counsel, Center for Reproductive Rights and Lead Counsel, Whole Woman's Health v. Hellerstedt
