

Columbia Law School and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs - J.D./M.P.A. Joint Degree Program

Columbia Law School and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs offer a joint degree program that enables students to earn a J.D. and M.P.A. in four years. Students spend five terms in residence at the Law School and three terms in residence at the Woodrow Wilson School.

Admissions

Prospective students must separately apply and be admitted to both the Law School and the Woodrow Wilson School. Applicants may either apply simultaneously to both schools or apply initially only to one school and then apply to the other school during their first year of study.

For information regarding the admissions process at each school, please contact the CLS Office of Admissions and the Woodrow Wilson School Office of Admissions directly.

Degree Requirements

- Credit Requirements: 71¹ Law School credits; 12 Woodrow Wilson School credits
- Minimum Residency Requirements: 5 semesters at the Law School; 3 semesters at the Woodrow Wilson School
- Academic Requirements:
 - Students in the J.D./M.P.A. program must satisfy all academic requirements for the J.D. degree, including: (1) all first-year Foundation Courses; (2) a course in Professional Responsibility; (3) the Major Writing credit; (4) the Minor Writing credit; (5) a minimum of 40 hours of Pro Bono service; and (6) for students who first matriculated at the Law School in or after 2016, at least six points of Experiential Coursework credit. The primary distinction is that, for students in the joint degree program, the Law School will accept one term of full-time residency and up to 12 academic credits toward the J.D. degree for work completed at the Woodrow Wilson School. For more information on the J.D. requirements, please visit the J.D. Rules Page.
